Foreword

Growth is evident at M.H.S. Millbrook is becoming better qualified as a place for students to grow in mind, body, and spirit. Even though the school and students have changed through the years, the ideals and goals have not. They still strive to attain the same goal, that of perfection. To you, the growing students of a growing high school, we, the Senior Class, present the 1964 LAUREL.

For all his deeds done well, for his great services rendered to Millbrook, furthering it toward its utmost goals, and for his unfailing hand in all our needs, we dedicate the 1964 LAUREL to . . .

Curriculum

*Don't Miss
the play

want Pollard*

While teaching the subjunctive mood, Mrs. Pollard manages to keep her happy smile.

Meet Julius Caesar and Brutus. Wait! That looks like Dana Prokos and David Berry.

Linda Norwood acts out Lady MacBeth's famous sleepwalking scene.

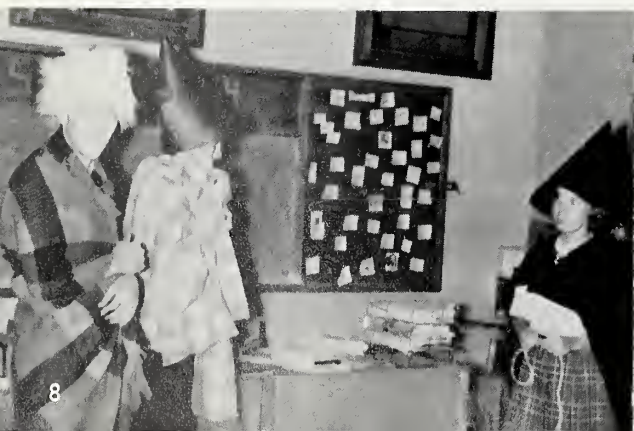

Miss Irving looks over Elizabeth Stimpson's shoulder as she takes an English test.

Learning by Doing . . .

For some, Shakespeare has been interesting. For others, it was dull. But regardless of the attitude taken, everyone learned something. Learning through acting or watching, but learning . . .

Witches? Yes. Luther Dishman, Danny Connell, and Anna Jones act out a scene in senior literature.

Beverly Byrum and Tisa Loizou dramatize a scene in junior English.

Mrs. Dalton, our librarian, is always busy keeping records and helping students.

Jane Proctor has done it again. She has honored M.H.S. by being a National Merit Semifinalist - look out fellow finalists!

Teddy Parrish finds the new library typewriter a valuable aid.

In some ways the years are hard, but we have faithful friends who help see us through. They want the best for us and have so guided our steps. Ever ready to show the way . . .

... With Good Guides

Mrs. Dalton shows a freshman class how to use the library.

Mrs. Johnston aids Eric Lortz as he seeks help while planning for college.

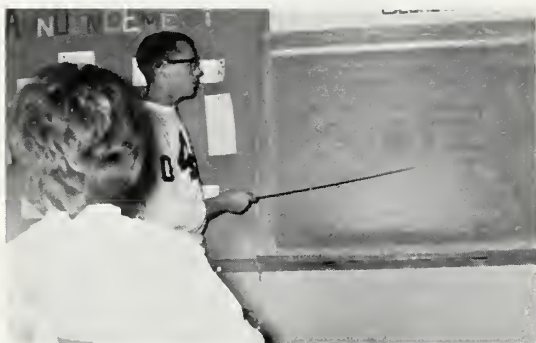

Are these students really studying algebra?

"It's so easy I can do it with my eyes closed," says Vicki Alford as she constructs a triangle.

Geometry students apply "geometric reasoning" on a test.

Colon Terrell points out the steps of a tricky geometry problem to his classmates.

New Ideas in Mathematics . . .

Millbrook's mathematics department prepares students as they train for their futures, in hope that they will be fully equipped with not only an understanding of math, but also a power of reasoning. Seniors apply what they have previously been taught in general math and Algebra I as they study geometry and advanced algebra. In doing so they realize that math is an important step in the preparation for a future in any field.

Mr. Farthing explains an algebra problem to a bewildered class.

Miss Pate has help in finding the right paper.

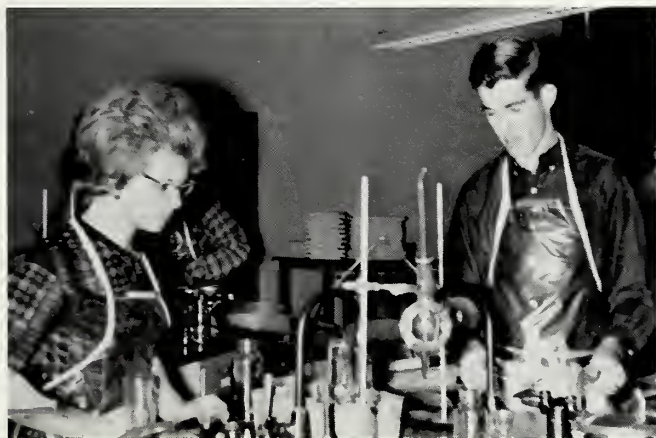

Page McKellar,
David Brown, and Eric
Lortz struggle with a
"pulley" in physics.

On tests students find out just how little they know about chemistry.

Mr. Harrell "fishes around" as he prepares for his biology class.

New Methods in Science

Jackie Jeffreys and Woodson Giles wonder what will come from the test tube.

Students learn that there's more to fish than catching and eating them.

Miss Hatcher
gives extra help
in her after-school classes on Wednesday.

Miss Hatcher helps
Tommy Jones with a physics problem.

Students Prepare for

Mrs. Pendleton arranges the child care projects made by her students.

Miss Ruth Turner demonstrates the proper way to cook on a gas stove.

Mr. Winborne guides his boys in woodcraft and many other fields.

A home "ec" class watches as Carolyn Byrd gives Barbara White a facial.

The Beverly Hillbillies come to Millbrook.

The home economics and agriculture classes are busy learning new methods for doing old jobs. Home economics prepares future homemakers for making and managing a home by giving them actual practice in these skills. Agriculture trains "future farmers" in all types of work to develop their skills and guides some toward a future vocation.

Changing Vocations

Mrs. Reese, the commercial teacher, explains the fundamentals of bookkeeping to her class.

Mrs. Reese is busy preparing for her next class.

Mrs. Berry expresses her viewpoints on retailing to her D.E. class.

Mrs. Berry also finds time to counsel Sandy Dixon, one of her D.E. students.

Patsy Wheeler, a D.E. student, enjoys waiting on customers in a department store.

Mrs. Reese explains to a typing student that "experience is the best teacher."

Learning of Others

Patsy Clappse and Virginia Oswald brighten up the French class with a colorful bulletin board.

Mrs. Haywood is proud of the new foreign language tapes.

Mrs. Thomas's economics class learns more about banking.

Mrs. Thomas teaches English I, as well as Sociology and Economics.

French students learn that French is mostly work and little play.

Beth Gower finds that reading French is not as easy as English.

Mrs. Haywood checks the Latin I class to see if the students have prepared their day's work.

and Ourselves

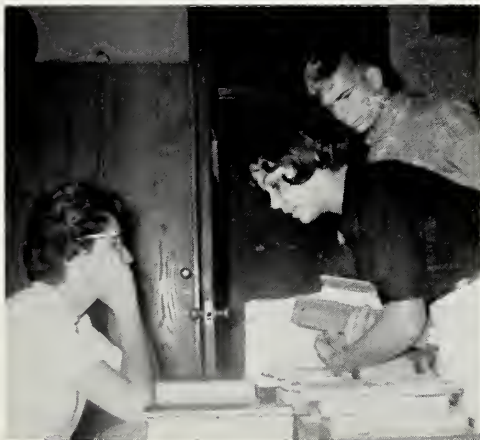

Civics and economics help Millbrook students obtain a knowledge of the American system of government and the economics of the country. They give the student a better understanding of the problems of daily living. These courses acquaint him with what he faces in the future as a citizen of his country.

Who studied economics? This line-up for quizzing will tell.

Charles Gower helps Mrs. Glover with a science experiment as the class watches.

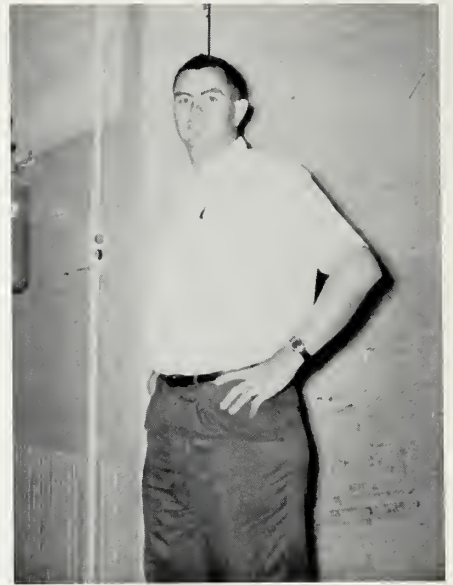

Mrs. Glover teaches civics and general science.

Mrs. Curtis is continually amused by her Senior economics class.

Mr. Clifton looks over the history lesson before going to class.

First Assistant Principal

Mr. Clifton helps the teachers with their problems, and uses the remaining time to help Mr. Williams with his busy schedule.

Besides acting as Assistant Principal, Mr. Clifton teaches two history classes.

As Assistant Principal, Mr. Clifton has many problems.

Jane Proctor and Jean Dupree were chosen to represent M. H. S. at Girls' State held in Greensboro. Emerson Gower went to Chapel Hill to attend Boys' State.

Coach Williams brushes up before teaching his civics class.

Two Units of "Phys. Ed."

Wayne Currie finds interesting material on the Civil War in our library.

Freshman boys keep "physically fit."

Practice makes perfect.

Since physical education is being stressed nationally, Millbrook has changed requirements from one to two units for graduation. All freshmen take a combined course of "phys. ed." and health each day. They receive a full unit for this work. Each succeeding year one-third credit is earned for classes held twice a week.

We are proud of our first full-time treasurer, Mrs. Bradsher.

Honor Through Service

Senior Tommy Bruce made a fine score on the N. M. S. Q. T. and was awarded an Honorable Mention.

Sandra Wentzel was chosen to receive the Good Citizenship Award of the D. A. R. for her outstanding qualities of service, patriotism, and dependability.

Sandra Wentzel and Anna Jones have been selected to represent Millbrook on the SEVENTEEN Fashion Board which advises Raleigh teens on new fashions.

Our Homecoming Queen

This year's Homecoming Queen, Sandra Wentzel, was crowned on the night of November 8, 1963. It was cool and the lights of the football field enhanced the beauty of the moment when Eric Lortz, Fred Richardson, and Emerson Gower, the tri-captains of our football team, presented Sandra with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with a blue bow, placed the crown upon her head, and congratulated her with a kiss.

Her Court

The spirit of the Homecoming festivities on the float is personified in Linda Williams, "Little Miss Homecoming," and Jimmy Carroll, "Mr. T."

The Senior Attendants are Brenda Perry and Anna Jones.

The Sophomore Attendants are Ann Carroll and Deborah Hux.

The Junior Attendants are Wanda Hardin and Kathy Holden.

The Freshman Attendants are Jane Boykin and Susan Lane.

Curriculum Editor and Chief Photographer, Yvonne Majure, will go to any length (or height) to get a good view of her subject.

Business Manager, Dan Funderburk, makes sure that the books balance.

Activities Editors, Linda Brantley and Pat Averette, do their best to meet the final deadline.

Student Activities

Dances are a big part of high school life. Here, Juniors and Seniors enjoy themselves in the surroundings of "Sayonara."

Assemblies play a large part in student activities. Students can hear the latest news and learn many new things. Lower classmen stand in respect to the Seniors.

Another student activity is the "gathering" of food for the Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. Glenn Joyner is loading the boxes of food so they can be carried to these families.

Under the leadership of Fred Williams and Pat Harrell, the Wildcats finished second in the Capital Area Conference. The Wildcats displayed a powerful offense and defense which won them many "laurels."

This was the story in many of our games. Mike Burns carried the pigskin for sixteen touchdowns.

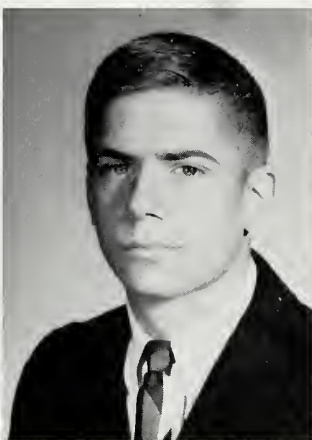

Head Coach Fred Williams and Assistant Pat Harrell confer with Tri-Captains Emerson Gower, Fred Richardson and Eric Lortz.

Thanks to fine passing and receiving like this, our aerial attack was great.

The rain in the Cary game made defense specialist, Crawford Harb, depend on help from our fine linemen.

Even though the Junior High Team didn't win many games, they gained a lot of experience. Our boys had to play against schools which were out of their class, but they never stopped fighting. The linemen were strong and the runners, fast. We foresee a future champion Varsity Team in these boys.

Class History

Engraved in our memories forever are the unexpected, yet well traveled paths of our high school years. Our problems, though new to us, were those also faced by past seniors.

Our freshman year of uncertainty started our journey up the path. Our officers were Eric Lortz, Luther Dishman, Patsy Wheeler, Brenda Perry, Stan Beaty, Sandy Wentzel, Ken Shelden, and Tommy Jones. Anna Jones and Sandy Wentzel graced the Queen's Court in Homecoming. We ended the year, with the help of Miss Harmon, our sponsor, with a Millbrook first, a Sadie Hawkins Dance.

We found our sophomore year one of understanding. We elected, as officers, Luther Dishman, Emerson Gower, Patsy Wheeler, Robert Davis, Sandy Wentzel, Dennis Massey, and Fred Richardson. Our Homecoming attendants were Anna Jones and Sandy Wentzel. The year moved along quickly and our class changed the custom in March and sponsored a "roaring" Roaring Twenties Dance. There for moral support were our sponsors, Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Pollard, and Mr. McRae. Too soon May arrived and our thoughts turned to the year ahead. We now were juniors!

As juniors we found this was to be a year of learning. We set our goals high and tried our best to reach them. Our executive branch was Tommy Bruce, Fred Richardson, Ken Shelden, Patsy Wheeler, Sandy Wentzel, Pat Averette, and Tommy Jones. As juniors we set forth on the annual magazine sale, in hopes of an unforgettable Junior-Senior. Career Day and ordering our class rings truly made us feel like juniors. After much work and a lot of laughs, with the help of Miss Hatcher and Mr. Brady, the big night of the Prom arrived. As each couple walked over the Oriental bridge, the enchanting world of "Sayonara" greeted them; and as they left, it said "good-bye." The magical night of Homecoming found Anna Jones and Sandy Wentzel as junior attendants. Too soon our junior year came to a close, but not before our class contributed a "special" touch, for it was our marshals, Jane Proctor, Yvonne Majure, Jean Dupree, Linda Brantley, and Stan Beaty, who walked the graduating seniors down the aisle for their last time, while we gave a long sigh; we finally were at the top!

That summer Emerson Gower, Jane Proctor, and Jean Dupree brought honor to us by attending Girls' and Boys' State. We have come a long way from our first days as freshmen. We find that this is our year of fulfillment. We took pride in electing Fred Richardson as president and Eric Lortz, Jane Proctor, Brenda Perry, Sandy Wentzel and Tommy Jones as his capable aids. This was a year of many achievements. In sports, with the aid of our class as captains and outstanding players, our school had a "victory" season. Sandy Wentzel reigned as Queen of Homecoming and Brenda Perry and Anna Jones were Senior attendants. Sports were not our only achievements for we were honored both academically and civically. Time passed quickly and we were kept busy with choosing mascots, measuring for caps and gowns, the joy of receiving our rings, and the senior play. With the help of our sponsors, Mrs. Haywood and Miss Irving, we have accomplished many of our goals. We now look toward graduation, knowing that it is a new and challenging step in our lives. It is said that all good things must come to an end, and we've found this to be true; for we, the Class of 1964, are now at the end of one of the most important stages of our lives. We look about us and we can see that we are not only leaving a building, but a part of us, behind. We shall always remember the fun, hard work, the decisions, and the relationships we have shared within these halls, and we shall never forget you, our friends.

We wish to express our appreciation to the firms represented in the following pages for their financial support of the 1964 LAUREL. We urge the students of Millbrook to patronize these establishments in return for their interest in our school.

Reluctance

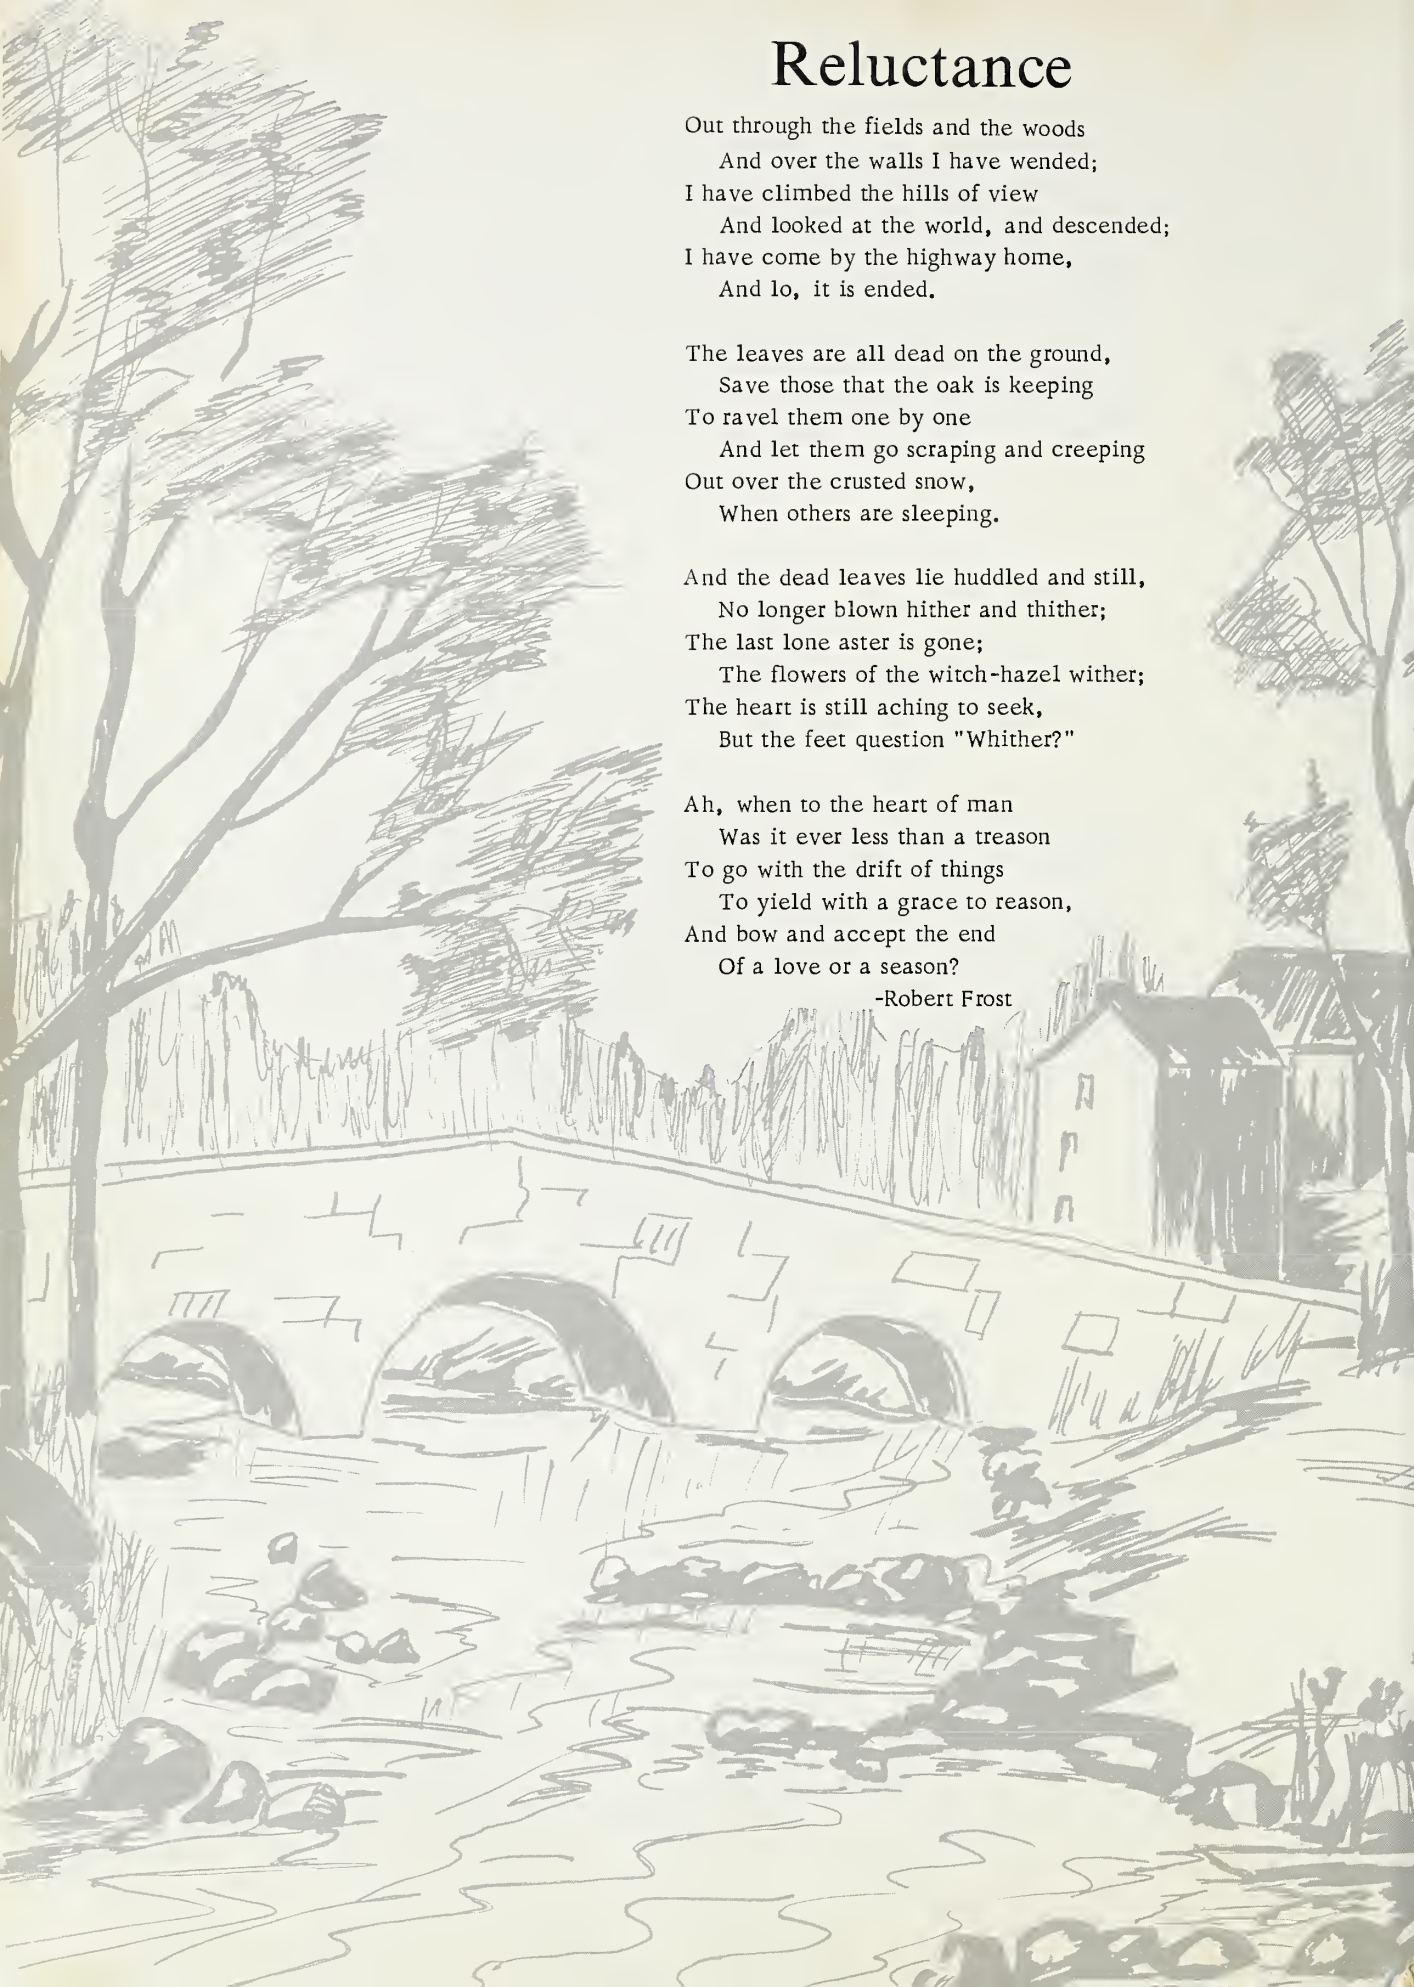

Out through the fields and the woods
And over the walls I have wended;
I have climbed the hills of view
And looked at the world, and descended;
I have come by the highway home,
And lo, it is ended.

The leaves are all dead on the ground,
Save those that the oak is keeping
To ravel them one by one
And let them go scraping and creeping
Out over the crusted snow,
When others are sleeping.

And the dead leaves lie huddled and still,
No longer blown hither and thither;
The last lone aster is gone;
The flowers of the witch-hazel wither;
The heart is still aching to seek,
But the feet question "Whither?"

Ah, when to the heart of man
Was it ever less than a treason
To go with the drift of things
To yield with a grace to reason,
And bow and accept the end
Of a love or a season?

-Robert Frost
